Lemuel Eli Quigg, Accounting for track here toward str $217,307 Checks, Tells How He "Accelerated" Public Spirit in Behalf of Met.

The testimony of Lemuel Ely Quigg before the Public Service Commission this afternoon makes relishing reading for a lot of publicspirited citizens who have given their time and money to various movements for the improvement of transit conditions in the past. Quigg, In accounting for $217,307 he spent for the Metropolitan people in four years, said that he was back of a lot of these movements, especially those which might have a detrimental effect upon or necessitate a great expense upon the part of the "L" and Subway interests of August
